One for all and all for one- shaping pharmacy practice for the future

National joint seminar with NHS Education for Scotland and the Royal Pharmaceutical Society in Scotland

Tuesday 17th May 2016 (10.00 am - 4.30 pm)
Stirling Court Hotel

All pharmacists and technicians working in Scotland are invited.
An event NOT to be missed.

Bringing front line practitioners from all settings together to share ideas, best practice and explore ways to work better together to enhance and develop pharmacy services to meet the needs of our patient and the public

Enhancing existing roles and developing new roles wherever pharmacy teams work

Workshops will focus on the following themes

How to manage caseloads through pharmacist prescribing in different settings
Allowing delegates to test and develop ideas they can then implement in their workplace

Exploring how to improve consistency in clinical practice
Using clinical care bundles to improve care and therapeutic relationships

To register your interest* in attending this event please email: events@nes.scot.nhs.uk

Please note that pharmacists and technicians in patient facing roles will be given priority

* Please note that this does not secure your place and you will be required to register at a later date. Registration details will follow in due course.

Queries: Sandra Kerr on 0131 656 4378 or email: events@nes.scot.nhs.uk