

NALOXONE – DISTINGUISHING EACH SERVICE

	Emergency Supply Naloxone	Take Home Naloxone (THN)
What system do I use to claim for the service?	The Universal Claim Framework (UCF) should be used, under “public health service”, if a supply is made or if stock expires	NEO360 should be used each time a supply and training is given
Is the service available in all community pharmacies in Fife?	Yes	No. Participating pharmacies in Fife can be found below
Does this service cover supply of naloxone to people at risk and general public to take home for use in future emergency?	No. This service is for immediate emergency situations only	Yes
My pharmacy stock has expired, can I claim for reimbursement?	Yes – through UCF	No
A patient states their naloxone has expired. Which service can I use to replace this kit?	No. Signpost to your closest pharmacy participating in THN	Yes
A suspected opioid overdose is occurring outside the premises – which service do I use to make the supply?	Yes	No
Are staff expected to administer naloxone?	There is no expectation for staff to administer naloxone in an emergency situation. However, staff can administer if they feel competent	No. This is a ‘take home’ service
Should the supply of naloxone be recorded on the patient’s PMR?	Yes , if these details are known. For emergency supply : only add to the PMR of the person who is overdosing, if known
A relative of a person at risk of an overdose would like a naloxone kit. Which service do I use to claim for the provision of a naloxone kit and the training?	No. Signpost to your closest pharmacy participating in THN	Yes
How many kits should I keep to support this service?	2 kits must be kept. This can be any combination of the kits shown on page 5.	Recommend keeping 2 kits (in addition to 2 emergency kits)
Is stock automatically ordered after I distribute naloxone?	Yes. As the kit has been processed through UCF the naloxone distributed should be added to your ordering system.	No. Naloxone kits issued through this service will need to be manually added to your ordering system*.

AVAILABILITY OF EACH SERVICE

Emergency Supply Naloxone – this is a national service that is available in all community pharmacies in Fife.

NALOXONE TRAINING

Training and frequently asked questions can be accessed via:

Community Pharmacy Emergency Naloxone Holding Service | Turas | Learn \(nhs.scot\)

For those who do not have access to Turas, training can be accessed via:

Overdose Prevention, Intervention and Naloxone e-learning - Scottish Drugs Forum \(sdtraining.org.uk\) – please note, a FREE account will need to be created.

Face-to-face training is available and can be provided in your pharmacy at a time that is convenient for you. This is delivered by NHS Fife and/or the harm reduction charity WithYou. To enquire about the provision of training, please contact fife.fifepharmacycommpharm@nhs.scot.
